SIERRA MADRE CALIFORNIA, APRIL 3, 1947.

VOLUME 41. NO. 28.

Byron C. Hopper reports recent installation of the most amazing gadgets ever designed to puzzle a pilferer.

As of Monday last, he was outfitted with new burglar alarms for all entrances, exits, skylights and mouseholes.

Secret wires have been installed and Mr. Hopper appears quite wrapped up in them.

That thin column of smoke seen rising from the NEWS offices early of a morning is Lee Shippey swearing off cigarettes. His own. A borrowed one doesn't count.

As he leans on our counter, absently awaiting the P. E., we often wonder what would happen to the Los Angeles Times if he missed the big red car. Probably list to the Windward Side of L. A.

Herewith we print a double-barrelled tribute to Nora M. Mesecar. Written by a neighbor and a friendly competitor, it carries community sentiment: "There is quite a void on Kersting Court these days. There is something noticeably missing. Even the usual every day passersby feel there is a definite change on the Court.

For nearly a quarter of a century we have been accustomed to admiring the bouquets of flowers in the window; the children have screamed their delight at the Christmas scene during the Holiday Season; the little placard giving the home address of the occupant in case one had need after office hours. Yes, these have been familiar sights to the residents of Sierra Madre for many years.

And once inside, an always cheery countenance greeted you; a smile that made you feel all was well, welcomed you; sympathy was evident if you needed comfort; a friendly hand if you needed help or advice. All this and more awaited you in this office.

Surely you know by now to whom we are referring. Yes, we are telling you that Nora M. Mesecar retired from business April 1st, after twenty-four years of service to the community. We shall miss her greatly, but we are glad that she can have a well-earned vacation from the work-a-day world. We shall miss George too. There are many of us who will miss our daily friendly sidewalk chat; the pleasant greetings; the never complaining philosophy; the ready wit.

Happy vacationing, George and Nora."

The NEWS has a quick-witted, fleet-footed and beady-eyed addition to the staff.

A mouse. After the crumbs of wisdom we drop, doubtless.

Dr. and Mrs. P. R. Woodworth, son Rollin and daughter, Margaret, have incorporated themselves and bought up all outstanding shares of stock in a six-week-old Irish setter named Rancee.

Eddie Robertson and Joe Swanson are wearing handsome sunburns acquired on both sides of Parker Dam. They fished on one side, camped on the other.

NORA M. MESECAR RETIRES AFTER
25 YEARS AS REALTOR IN S. M.John R. Quinn
Will Speak
At Banquet

John R. Quinn, County Assessor, is to be the speaker at the Chamber of Commerce dinner scheduled for Wednesday at 7 p. m. at the Woman's Club-house.

His general subject is to be reasons behind actions and policies of his office and there will be no reference to specific cases, according to C. of C. officials.

Dinner tickets will not be sold at the door. Reservations must be made for the limited space with A. E. Morgan, secretary.

The gold-lettered sign which has identified 13 Kersting Court as a center of Sierra Madre real estate exchanges will come down this week as Nora M. Mesecar concludes 25 years of business.

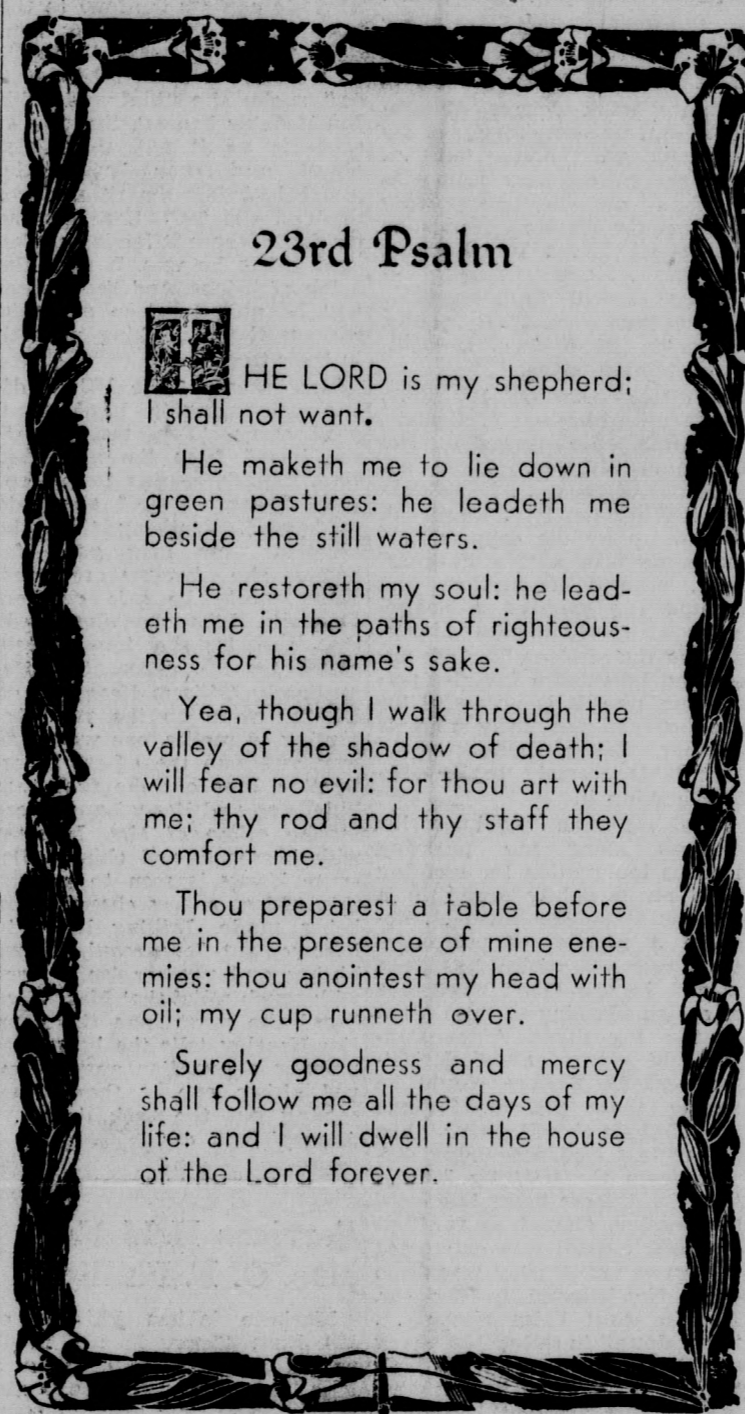

Mrs. Mesecar came to Sierra Madre 33 years ago, first acting as assistant to her husband, George E. Mesecar, who was Pacific Electric agent here for 24 years.

In 1922 she determined on real estate selling for a career and at her behest, Charles Kersting constructed her present office in what had been a small alleyway.

It was numbered 13, but it must have been lucky for she has prospered for a quarter of a century in the same office.

Mrs. Mesecar's future plans are indefinite at this time, but, as in all good continued stories, watch next week's NEWS for latest developments.

Lions will take over the remainder of the day and evening with a program yet to be announced.

Lions Schedule Program
For Three Day Fiesta

Specific plans have been marked on the Lions' calendar of events for their Pioneer and Homecoming Days next month. It was announced yesterday by Postmaster Tom Durning, who is in charge of publicity.

On May 30th, Memorial Day, the Lions will join with the Veterans of Foreign Wars and the American Legion to honor those who have given their lives in all wars. There will be a parade and services at the Sierra Madre Cemetery.

Following those services the Lions will take over the remainder of the day and evening with a program yet to be announced.

Saturday, May 31, is to be known as Lions' Day and it will be marked by a parade, barbecue, show and a teen-age dance on the tennis courts at the City Park.

Lions from all clubs in Los Angeles County will be asked to participate and a large attendance is anticipated.

On that day judges will crown the Queen who will be chosen from contestants named by several civic and service clubs in the community.

School participation in the city-wide fete has been asked by Mr. Durning who recently spoke before the Elementary school and St. Rita's. He outlined a contest in poster design which should deal with appropriate subjects and will be rewarded with three prizes.

First prize will be a trip to Catalina Island for a parent and son or daughter contestant. Second and third prizes will be announced later.

Committee chairmen for the three-day festival include the following:

Harold Drury, Entertainment and Church; Joe Maple, Concessions; A. E. Morgan, Finance; Sid Hamill, Parade; Ralph Welch, Program; Mr. Durning, Publicity and Window Decoration; Carl Peterson, Queen Contest; Jack Hartney, Speakers; Cloyd Marshall, Street Decoration; Sterling Ripple, Tickets; and Harvey Steinberger, Veterans.

NEW BAR ASSOCIATION

Attorneys of Sierra Madre, Monrovia and Arcadia are to meet April 7 in the offices of Judge LeRoy Anderson to form a bar association.

Chief Gordon McMillan.

Well, the Chief is rather cozy with his information. It seems he casts with no man's fly—but his own. He ties his own and what he comes out with is a professional secret. He will allow that his "version" of the Royal Coachman is successful.

If the town remains on good behavior, Chief McMillan will fish somewhere locally as the season opens.

Mr. Neale, veteran realtor, could not be reached for comment and it is reasonably certain that he is out somewhere practicing a back-hand cast.

At the Sierra Madre Hardware store the entire staff rises as one and refuses to be quoted on anything as serious as fishing. All questions are referred to Tom Neale and Police

The barrage of bright lights that sliced the sky Tuesday night were a part of the "open house" at Al Foxton's Chevron Station at Sierra Madre Blvd. and Auburn.

Mr. Foxton took over in informal ceremony from the famous former owner, Mayor J. Milton Steinberger, who has retired from business after 37 years in Sierra Madre.

Young veteran Foxton, who plans to move here with his family, expressed himself as being pleased and proud at his warm reception.

Sewer Bond
Sale Brings Service Near

A long step forward to the acquisition of sewers locally was achieved last Wednesday when a major portion of the sewer bonds for District 15, of which Sierra Madre is a part, were sold.

According to K. H. Harding, Secretary of Sanitation District 15 of Los Angeles County, Blyth Co. and Associates bought the bonds at a premium of $21,007 carrying an interest of 2 1/4%. Bonds totalling $2,700,000 were sold, part of the 3 million issue for District 15.

This sum, Mr. Harding said, will go toward construction of main trunk sewers and the line down to the joint disposal plant at Harbor City.

Construction of lateral lines to connect with the trunk line is city responsibility and Council action is anticipated in advertising bids for this work.

City Attorneys Thomas A. Reynolds of Sierra Madre and T. Guy Cornyn of Arcadia, have been authorized by the City Councils of the two communities to seek additional allocation of water from the Big Santa Anita Canyon Dam.

Costs of obtaining the water will be shared equally, it was reported, and after its diversion to our spreading grounds, will be available to both communities on an equal basis.

It has been established by County Flood Control officials that costs of bringing the water to the local spreading grounds would approximate $140,000, of which they stand ready to provide $40,000. The remainder then would be shared on a matching basis between Sierra Madre and Arcadia, according to last week's agreement.

Contacts will be made in the immediate future by the two attorneys with the County Flood Control District, the State Divi-

CONFER WITH LASCO

A Special meeting of City officials was called at the City Hall at 8 o'clock last night by Mayor J. Milton Steinberger to confer with Lou A. Sears, president of Lasco, Inc.

Lasco Inc. is the prospective purchaser of the upper Hastings Ranch which lies within Sierra Madre's School District. The Council is deliberating annexation of that area.

Called into conference were Council members, Planning Commission officials and officers of the Chamber of Commerce.

What if any, decision was reached would necessarily have missed the NEWS' Wednesday deadline.

sion of Water Resources and the San Gabriel Valley Protective Association to obtain required permission for the new allocation.

This development toward securing additional water for Sierra Madre resulted from a meeting last week when Arcadia's city officials met here with local officials.

Present from Arcadia were Councilmen Albert Adcock, Ernest Leeper, Charles Nugent and Jack Russell together with City Attorney Cornyn and City Engineer Glen B. Watson.

Sierra Madre was represented by Mayor J. Milton Steinberger, Henry Nuetzel and John Froehlich, City Engineer Joseph A. Hurley, Water Superintendent Joe Swanson and City Attorney Reynolds.

Additional developed water for Sierra Madre may make possible the annexation of the upper acres of the Hastings Ranch, as revealed at a recent Council meeting when City Engineer Hurley said he believed the water we hoped to acquire from the Big Santa Anita would take care of Sierra Madre and the proposed annexation.

Lou A. Sears, president of Lasco Inc. of Altadena, is negotiating purchase of the Hastings Ranch for $1,250,000. He plans development of about 1400 homes on what is now county land. The entire development would run about 3 millions, Mr. Sears said.

City Council opinion has been that the annexation could not be supported without development of additional water.

March postal receipts totalled $3,649.36, according to Postmaster Durning. This shows a gain of 15 percent over March of 1946, he said, when a total of $3,184 was shown.

Hardware Man Retires From Active Service

March 15 concluded a 24-year association in the Sierra Madre Hardware for Frank E. Cox. From now on Mr. and Mrs. Cox will enjoy a well deserved retirement from the business world and live quietly in their Alta Vista home with plenty of trips to make life interesting. Mr. Cox has been one of the busiest men on the street, always time for a chat with friends but never long away from the store where he has been responsible for the hardware buying.

Sunday Rescue Of Youngsters From Canyon

Two children, Judy and Marvin Ives, Jr., were rescued by U. S. Forestry officials Sunday from a precarious perch in the bottom of the Little Santa Anita canyon.

The youngsters, 6 and 8 years old, set out with their father, Marvin Ives of 3165 Brandin Avenue in Pasadena, for a hike on the Wilson Trail. Tempted by the slope down into the canyon, the trio left the trail and clambered down to the falls.

They went down the stream bed until they could go no further and then were alarmed to find they could not get out or up.

Mr. Ives left the children and scaled a cliff on the West side, finally summoning help. The Forestry Service was notified and the children brought up the canyon side with ropes.

Patrolman L. E. McCloud was in charge of the rescue detail.

The latest report on the children was that they were physically alright, but suffering from exhaustion as well as exposure.

Forestry officials cautioned all hikers against leaving regular marked trails.

Jury Trial Set In Davis Case

In City Court last week Miss

Minnie Davis, of 150 West Grandview, plead not guilty to charges of allowing chickens to run on premises other than her own. Miss Davis asked for a jury trial and Judge Norman Eaton set trial time at 10 a. m. Tuesday.

Jack D. Storrier, 255 North Lima, plead guilty to a charge of drunkenness and received a suspended sentence of 30 days in County jail.

Also pleading guilty to charges of drunkenness, William T. Fox of 133 Esperanza, was fined $10. Mrs. Margaret A. Moore, 1505 Carroll Drive, Altadena received a $10 fine to be suspended if she repairs damages to property on Carter avenue.

She is charged with leaving a car with improperly set brakes. According to police, the car rolled down the street into a nearby yard, damaging a tree.

Almost daily, we read of accidental injuries and death from just such incidents. . . After more than three days of roosting in a neighbor's tree, a peac-cock began to be a nuisance and a worry. "Doc" Gossard owned the bird. Just passed its second year of life. It began to have trouble at home with its mate. Must have decided to leave. It left. Flying like an experienced travelling goose or pheasant, it landed in a nearby tree high in the sky. With all the decoys, temptations of good food, coaxing in peacock language, promises and everything he could think of, the Doc was unable to influence the fowl to return to his roost at home. (His mate must have been real mean.) Our Medico was "stumped". If he chased the bird from the tree, it would fly far, far away. If anyone climbed the tree he could expect the same. What should he do? He got to thinkin'. "They are good eating. Now if we scare it away, it will be lost. If we shoot it, we can eat it." He called the cops. Chief McMillan was given the honor. He didn't like the idea of shooting such a beautiful creature. "Still, it has been three days now since the poor thing has had food or drink. It'll die anyway," he reasoned. "So perhaps it is a humane act and a duty." The Doc insisted that it would not be wise to attempt to capture the fowl in the tree. "It will fly for miles," he said. "Well,—I guess if that's all we can do, that's all we can do." spake the Chief and with Jim Heasley beneath the tree to catch it as it fell, the Chief aimed and even before the sound had left the rifle, down tumbled the fowl. Heasley was far from where it landed and a good thing he was. It fell like a ton of bricks. And the Gerkes will be able to sleep at night without the squawking peacock in their tree.

Mrs. Ward of the NEWS office was working hard at a good story. "Tap, tap, bang," she heard from the adjoining wall. "That's coming from Hopper's Jewelry Store!" she said to herself. Realizing that the Hoppers were long gone for home, she became alarmed. There might be safe crackers at work. Like the alert lady that she is, she immediately called for the police. And immediately Officers Heasley and Embree were on the run. According to tactics, one went one way and one the other. Investigation brot out the fact that Bill Estes and Harry Lange were in the office of Mrs. Mesecar with hammers and chisels. Because Harry is soon to possess this office, a few changes are being made. Drilling holes in hard cement floors requires hard hitting and much noise. It was with much relief that Mrs. Ward heard the news from the cops. Jim Heasley tells the boys that perhaps a guardian angel stopped either one of them from coming out the back door. . . A suspicious car.

She is survived by her husband, Oakley F. Phillips; a son, Richard O. Phillips; her parents Mr. and Mrs. William H. West and a brother, Perry E. West.

AT LIBEL LABEL

Suits of libel, defamation of character and practically breach of promise against Wilson High School's editorial staff were mulled over this week by Sierra Madrenes lucky enough to see their April Fool's Day issue.

We quote:

"With the installation of a telegraph line to Sierra Madre, we are able to bring you an exclusive story on the hill country disaster when seepage in eight caves forced nineteen families to leave their homes—E. L. Winter, prominent citizen, drawled, 'I can't say ah'm sorry; us folks allus wanted runnin' water.'"

Gentlemen of the press, we all resent that!

In solitary splendor our City Council sits every other Tuesday night.

Fie on the citizens of Sierra Madre!

The favorite indoor sport of local residents for the past several months has been discussion of the height of the tax bill. The city tax, the county tax, the school tax.

You can find more amateur solutions to the tax problem than you can get good advice—and that's saying a lot.

But do these light-under-the-bushel administrators ever come down and listen to their duly-elected councilmen as they expend tax monies on city services?

Last week there were three spectators—two weeks ago there were two.

The councilmen discuss all expenditures, enquire into them and even wax wrathful at times. And they do this publicly—for the benefit of any interested citizens.

Here is an opportunity to watch and take part in government at the level most concerned with you—your city government.

FIRE FLAMES

Pomona is pretty far to travel just to attend a firemen's meeting. Distance failed to discourage our locals last Thursday. In one car there were five and in another two. With Joe Grippi as driver, a carload consisting of Mayor Steinberger, Chief Heasley, Secretary Joe Swanson and Bill Estes made the trip as famous as the trip to Long Beach via Las Vegas, Nevada. Because Ray Penn took to another route in another car, Grippi followed suit and found that Ray's knowledge of distance and their whereabouts was vague. At one time the cars were headed west when the back seat of the Grippi car was well informed that Pomona is east. To ease Joe's disturbed mind, the back seat was very encouraging with the suggestions offered. It was easy to follow the instructions from where Joe was sitting. It was the Mayor's opinion that if the car was ever to get to Pomona, it should be turned left at the next corner and before the corner could be reached, Street Superintendent Swanson knew very well that if the car turned left we would end up in San Diego or Covina. Estes that they were both wrong, but just as he said, "who cares, it's a fine night for a ride anyway". Chief Heasley comforted Grippi by whispering in his ear that the fellows in the back seat didn't know too much, so the best thing to do would be to keep going until the next intersection was reached where there would probably be a Union Oil Station where the correct information would be gladly given. Inasmuch as the Mayor is about to quit the Service Station business, this brot out the required state of affairs. The mention of any other station than Standard was enough. Even the whisper was heard and from then on, there was nothing to do but listen to the quaities of the Mayor's oil and gas. (Especially gas). A bet made, that the Service Station at the next intersection would be a Standard, was lost. There was nothing but a highway stand where everything but gasoline could be bot. Such is the way of the firemen when they journey to meetings. Being just a trifle late only made the Sierra Madre aggregation more conspicuous and upon their entrance the loud and raucous boos indicated that our boys were missed at roll call. There was cheering when the congregation learned that our own George Norris had had not accompanied the delegation. Many realized that they had at last found their opportunity to "second some motions". Many representatives of the fire service were present and the meeting was enlightening as well as of entertaining value. The return trip was much the same as the going. One big difference was that once the men found themselves in the car at the end of an orchard road—LOST!

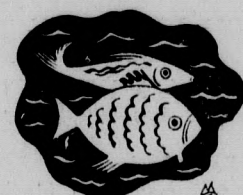

The regular bi-monthly drill Friday proved the value of careful and constant practice. The improvement in speed and neatness of work is very noticeable. There is no predicting which of the two teams will win the drill contest now in progress. Both teams are showing so much improvement. Both are about equal in speed and correct work. Much will depend on the future turnout of the experienced men to help their "buddies" at drill. There will be little sympathy for those who have not attended regularly if their team loses. Included in much business conducted at the meeting following last week's drill, the choosing of a contestant for Queen of the coming "Pioneer Days" was prominent. The Firemen are very proud to announce that Carolyn Johnson has accepted our anxious request that she represent the firemen in the coming contest for Queen. Miss Johnson is the beautiful daughter of Art Johnson. Art is and has been one of Sierra Madre's leading firemen for many years. The men of the fire department will work hard to bring the crown to their selection. Carolyn was born in Sierra Madre and is a descendant of real Sierra Madre pioneers. She is therefore an ideal contestant for the throne. Let's get goin'!

Another important item before the meeting was the forthcoming Easter Party at the City Park. Arrangements were made for the preparation of the eggs, baskets, Easter Rabbits, prizes and such necessary equipment as will be needed.

And now—back to fire fighting. The one best way to fight fires is to keep 'em from gettin' started. This means that if we keep reminding ourselves that dry weeds and piles of rags and careless throwing of burning materials and smoking in bed and a lot of other things will eventually start on unwanted fire, we will do much to prevent a fire from getting started. Let's keep the FIRES OUT.

Requiem Mass Held For Mission Priest

High Requiem Mass yesterday morning at St. Rita's Church solemnized the last rites for Father Denis Mary Keating C.P., who had been afflicted for several months with the Retreat House of the Passionist Fathers here.

Father Keating had just completed the Mission at St. Rita's Church and was to be summoned for an early mass Monday morning when found dead in bed, apparently a victim of heart failure.

Born February 24, 1904, at Langdon, North Dakota, he was ordained as a priest in 1937. In 1941 he became an Army Chaplain, spending two years in Europe with General Patton's army.

He was wounded in the Battle of Normandy and carried shrapnel bits in his body. He left the service with the rank of Major and received the Silver Star.

At the services Father Patrick C. P., a former classmate, sang the Mass and Father Valentine C. P., preached the sermon.

Burial services took place at Calvary Cemetery in Los Angeles.

Awning Firm Opens Office in City

The G. W. Cox and Son Awning Co. of 63 North Fair Oaks, Pasadena, has made its service more accessible to Sierra Madre folks.

The firm has arranged to have a representative at Fede's Furniture Store to answer all inquiries about awnings, Venetian blinds, cornice boxes and like equipment.

Mr. Cox has been in the business 27 years and recently has augmented his service by taking his sons into the management.

Parking Puzzle May Be Solved By Amendment

In an effort to solve present and future parking problems in the down town business district, the City Planning Commission last week began drafting an amendment to Ordinance 391 which governs zoning.

The amendment would deal with off-street parking for the congested area.

According to W. Webster Vanier, secretary of the Commission, members also considered some restrictions on houses built without provision for garages. This he said, might be one means of taking cars off streets.

City Attorney Thomas A. Reynolds brought before the Commission a proposed ordinance dealing with construction of fences or growth of hedges in front yards of residences throughout the city. No action other than discussion was taken on the proposition.

Bower Family Honor April Birthdays Sun.

A family dinner at the home of Mrs. Doris O'Shaunnessy in Lynwood Sunday honored the April birthdays in the Bower family. Mrs. O'Shaunnessy's birthday was April 1st and her father Frank Bower's birthday will occur April 26th.

Other members of the family present besides Mr. and Mrs. Bower were Mrs. Helen Pierson of Los Angeles with her daughter and grand daughter, Mrs. Betty Cook and daughter, Doris, and Mrs. Eva Christy of Pasadena. Mrs. Christy and Mrs. Pierson with Mr. Frank Bower comprise the Bower Family Laboratories Inc.

UNRELUCTANT SNAPDRAGON

Last week the NEWS put its foot up into the neck when a story was published about J. F. Harvey's snapdragon that had attained a growth of six feet and six inches.

We went along with Mr. Harvey's opinion that it was the largest such plant grown in Sierra Madre.

BUT—Mrs. H. J. Harrison of 624 Ramona, came into the office yesterday with an actual photograph of a snapdragon she grew in 1940 which attained a height of EIGHT feet six inches.

She said she had never again achieved such a phenomenon and we agree never again to put a ceiling on snapdragons.

HEALTH CENTER OPEN

In local observance of National Public Health Nurse Week, April 20 to 26, the nursing staff of the Monrovia health district will hold open house April 22 from 2 until 5 p. m. and 7 to 9 p. m.

Among the nurses to act as hostesses for the occasion is Mrs. Daisy Hannon of Sierra Madre and Arcadia districts.

Schools, parent teacher associations, civic and service clubs are being invited to visit the health center at which time the work of the public health nurse will be demonstrated.
